

Anders Östman, born in 1952, has a MSc degree in Land Surveying and a PhD in Photogrammetry obtained at KTH in Stockholm. He has been a professor in Geographic Information Technology at Luleå University of Technology and a professor in Geomatics at the University of Gävle. He has also been working in the private sector (Intergraph) and at Swedesurvey AB. Anders Östman has previously conducted scientific research within the fields of geospatial data quality and Spatial Data Infrastructures (SDI). Anders Östman is one of the founders of the European research organization AGILE (Associations of GI Laboratories in Europe) and he has for several years been a member of the European research organization EuroSDR (European Spatial Data Research). Anders Östman is currently retired, but is acts as a consultant through his company Novogit AB.